Eyewitness Tells of Atom Blast

Editor's note: Our Mr. Boyle disappeared this morning into the St. Patrick's Day parade, leaving behind in his typewriter nothing but a small green shamrock. Therefore we are reprinting the following piece which has found its way into many an Irish family scrapbook:

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—What is it to be Irish?

On 364 days of the year being Irish isn't visibly different from being Scotch, French, Italian, Jewish, Serbian, Dutch, or—yes—even English.

The Irishman pays his bills, complains against his taxes, does his work, and listens to his wife like the man of any other race. But on this one day of the year—St. Patrick's day—the Irishman becomes an Irishman. And on this day you have to be Irish to know what it is to be Irish.

The outer signs, of course, can be seen by all. The Irishman overnight grows a foot taller and stalks the earth a giant. All traffic lights turn green before him, and if they don't he sees red.

But this air of majesty is only token evidence of interior change. The men of other races who envy the Irishman his bearing on St. Patrick's day would envy him far more if he could look inside the Irishman's soul.

What is it to be Irish? It is to have an angel in your mouth, turning your prose to poetry. It is to have the gift of tongues, to know the language of all living things.

What is it to be Irish? Oh, on this day it is magic. Not just the cornet in the parading high school band, but the deep, deep music of living, the low, sad rhythms of eternity.

What is it to be Irish? It is to live the whole history of his race between a dawn and a dawn.

What is it to be Irish? It isn't only the realization that he is descended from kings. It is the realization that he is a king himself, an empire on two feet striding in power, a strolling continent of awe.

What is it to be Irish? Why on St. Patrick's day, to be Irish is to know more glory, adventure, magic, victory, exultation, gratitude and gladness than any other man can experience in a lifetime.

What is it to be Irish? It is to walk in complete mystic understanding with God for 24 wonderful hours.

Annual Chamber Banquet Ticket Sales 'Booming'

The sale of tickets for the annual Dixon chamber of commerce membership dinner on March 26 is "booming," the ticket chairman, Paul Johns, said today. So well has the ticket campaign progressed that the dinner has been moved from the Nachusa House to the Loveland Community building where there are greater accommodations. Ticket holders are reminded of that fact. Johns said that he expected more than 125 to attend. Last year's attendance was placed at about 60. The speaker will be C. Howard Smith, Washington, D. C., national programs adviser for the U. S. chamber of commerce.

HOLDS HEAD OF DYING HUSBAND—Mrs. Maria Arvizu cradles the head of her dying husband, Ignacio, after he was beaten, robbed and shot by two men in Los Angeles. Mrs. Arvizu told police her husband, a night club operator, was returning home with more than $1,000 when he was attacked in front of the house. She witnessed part of the attack from her front porch. Arvizu died in an ambulance en route to the hospital. (AP wirephoto)

Rail Wreck Near DeKalb Delays Trains

Two westbound passenger trains of the Chicago & North Western railroad were delayed in arriving here today, one by about seven hours, by a six-car derailment in DeKalb county.

The pile-up occurred shortly after midnight near Cortland, about four miles east of DeKalb. Five empty cars and one car loaded with steel products left the rails when a wheel developed trouble.

Both main lines of the C & NW were blocked by the wreckage. The freight had been westbound. The accident delayed arrival of Train 15, westbound, in Dixon until 8:35 a.m. today. It was due at 1:48 a.m.

Train 13, also westbound and due here at 11:25 a.m., did not arrive until about an hour later.

Air Force Says Unknown Planes Fly Over Alaska

WASHINGTON—Air force officials said Monday night that appearances of unidentified aircraft over Alaska have been "less than intermittent and might more accurately be called scattered."

The officials were commenting upon published reports that the Russians have been making periodic survey flights over North America.

Officials said unidentified craft have made some flights over Alaska and Northern Canada.

Irish Mark St. Patrick's Day With Parade, Prayers

DUBLIN—(AP)—Ireland celebrated St. Patrick's Day today with a parade and a prayer. And there wasn't a soldier or a politician in sight. It was a grand day—a bright sun shining and all so peaceful. It was perhaps the only country in the world where you couldn't drown the shamrock—for all the pubs and bars were closed. The fighting Irish, who like to be different, did this up in typically different style in honoring the country's patron saint. Stripped for the first time were all military trappings. The 12,000 strong Eire Army went to mass and then had the day off. The only reminders of Ireland's turbulent past were grey-haired veterans of the IRA-Irish Republican Army—who led the parade. But they were dressed in their Sunday best—no uniforms. Everyone was in a festive mood.

Youth Center Mural, Powder Room Praised

A number of unusual features of the new Dixon youth center have received favorable comment from students and adults alike. The beautiful powder room and the mural on the west wall are two of the projects that have attracted much interest.

The painting was designed by Dick Thomas, a sophomore at Dixon High School. He was assisted in the work by Thomas Ruud, high school art director, and the following students: Norman Stripe, Joey Jones, Mary Hershberger and Sally Beede.

The powder room was planned and developed by three freshmen, Judy Freeman, Sheila Martin and Kay Lund.

In the general operation of the youth center some of the jobs which must be carried out regularly are seemingly thankless, since the students who are assigned to them find it difficult to avail themselves of the general activity within the recreation halls. Two of these situations are the ticket taker, Glenn Bock, and the soft drink and confectionery dispensers, John Gott and Richard Mulkins.

The youth center will be open again over the weekend, beginning Friday evening.

Must Die

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Gov. William G. Stratton today declined to interfere with the death sentence of Emanuel Scott, 28, of Chicago, doomed to die in the electric chair for murder early Thursday morning.

The English were even invited to join in the festivities. Highlighting the day's sports program in the capital was an international soccer match between England and Ireland.

Politicians Quiet The nation's political leaders took a back seat with the day devoted chiefly to a gala display of Ireland's culture and industrial progress.

An estimated 75,000 lined the parade route along O'Connell Boulevard—including scores of American soldiers on leave—to watch the two hour procession of floats.

There was only one foreign flag carried in the parade—the Stars and Stripes.

Two More Filings for Dixon School Board

Sid Sinow, A. C. Higby Candidates

Four Now in Field; Midnight Tonight Final Filing Date

A four-way race developed in the school board election here today with filing of two more nomination petitions. Filing deadline is midnight tonight.

Sidney Sinow, Dixon businessman, and A. C. Higby, Dixon township supervisor and president of the Dixon rural fire protection district, entered their candidacies this morning for the two school board posts to be filled April 7.

Previously, petitions have been filed by William E. Haarbauer and Atty. John Dixon.

Sinow has been a partner in the firm of Sinow & Weinman since 1945. He is president of the Junior chamber of commerce and is Americanism chairman of the state Junior chamber.

Born and reared here, Sinow was graduated from Dixon high school in 1936. He was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1941 with a master's degree in arts and law.

He taught history and social sciences in Urbana high school for a short time, later accepting a position as assistant purchasing agent for Keeshin Motor Express Co. and Seaboard Freight Lines.

Higby, who also has served as rural fire protection commissioner, was instrumental in establishing the fire protection district here, the largest rural district in the state.

He has been in fire protection work more than 40 years. Currently he is serving as trustee of the Illinois Fire Protection association.

Higby has represented Dixon township on the county board of supervisors for many years.

Showdown On Bohlen Wednesday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Eisenhower administration appeared today to have accepted the challenge to a foreign policy showdown with opponents of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen's nomination as ambassador to Russia.

Nearly all of those opponents in the Senate are Republicans. The nominee had a case of measles which forced a delay until Wednesday of a new hearing on his appointment by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It was originally set for today.

'Red' Disease Spreads . . .

BERLIN—(AP)—East German President Wilhelm Pieck was reported suffering today from pneumonia and pleurisy, the same malady which took the life of Czech President Klement Gottwald last week. Pieck, however, didn't catch his at Stalin's funeral.

The West Berlin anti-Communist "fighting group against inhumanity" said the 77-year-old Communist veteran is in an East Berlin hospital.

PARIS—(AP)—The evening newspaper Paris-Press reported today that Maurice Thorez, ailing leader of France's Communist party, has suffered a relapse and that his physical condition has become serious.

The paper said that the report on the No. 1 French Red, who has been in Moscow for nearly two years, was brought back by Jacques Duclos and Andre Stil on their return Monday from Stalin's funeral.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A United States reconnaissance bomber fought off a Russian-made MIG-15 jet fighter off the east coast of Kamchatka Sunday.

The Air Force, announcing the incident, said today it took place about 23 miles east of the Siberian peninsula in the North Pacific Ocean.

The Air Force gave this account:

The U. S. plane, a B-50, was on a "routine weather reconnaissance flight from an Alaskan air base."

Two Russian type MIG-15s intercepted the American aircraft but only one attacked.

The U. S. plane "returned fire but there appeared to be no damage to either craft."

At 25 miles at sea, the plane was over international waters and not over any Russian territorial waters.

Governor Names Local Engineer To State Board

Robert H. Anderson, 422 E. Fellows st., Dixon, has been appointed to the Illinois Board of Natural Resources and Conservation by Gov. William Stratton, it was announced today.

Anderson, who has been associated with the C. K. Willett engineering firm here since 1935, will serve in an advisory capacity to the governor.

The board is composed of outstanding engineers, chemists, biologists, and forestry experts and is under the department of Registration and Education headed by Vera Binks. All board members serve without pay.

Anderson was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1932 and during World War served as a lieutenant colonel in the transportation corps. He is presently a colonel in the reserves. Anderson also is a director in the Illinois Society of Professional Engineers.

He is married and has two children.

TV Image of Atom Blast Is 'Wobbly'

Picture Flutters At Outset; Viewers See Big Atom Cloud

NEW YORK—(AP)—Television viewers across the nation were given a closeup view of an atomic blast today as a grim reminder of the need for civil defense.

Reception was wobbly at the moment of the blast but immediately afterward the now-familiar cloud rose high into the air like a giant mushroom, then leaned sharply as the wind apparently pushed it to one side.

Even the eye of TV wasn't able to look directly at the blast, the camera lens having to be protected at the moment of the explosion.

Lights Go Out A dramatic feature was the lights that went out. Before the explosion, viewers could see lights on the tower, on the house one-quarter mile away, and on the house one and a half miles away. Afterward, only the light on the farthest house was still glowing.

In Los Angeles, Boston, Chicago, New York and other points, there was a flutter of the picture at the moment of the blast and immediately afterward, but the image then steadied to give a good picture of the mushrooming cloud.

Reception Varied However, reception varied somewhat by individual sets because of the rather weak synchronizing signals that hold the picture steady. On sets that were not in good adjustment, there was more trouble or the picture than on those in peak working order.

The signals were relayed over an improvised mountain-top series of towers to Los Angeles, nearest network connection. While they still didn't appear to be up to regular broadcast standards, they were considerably better than those of a similar telecast from Yucca flat a year ago and also better than those Sunday during a telecast showing test homes, bomb shelters and automobiles.

Many stations will carry a filmed repeat tonight.

Irish Eggs!

FORNBEET, Mo.—(AP)—Herbert Pichett's hen has been doing her part for St. Patrick's Day. She's been laying eggs with a pastel green coloring. Pichett found two more in her nest Monday.

He said the eggs appeared to be normal except for the coloring.

Dictator Tito Given Full Treatment by the British

LONDON—(AP)—Marshal Tito met young Queen Elizabeth II in Buckingham Palace today. This served as a clear sign to the world—the Kremlin included—that the Yugoslav dictator has made the grade socially in the West.

It also marked the first time Britain's Queen has sat across a luncheon table from a wartime Communist guerrilla chieftain turned dictator. But in this cold war period Tito is a dictator with a difference—he is feuding with Soviet Russia.

Tito drove to the palace after taking in the British Museum and the ancient Tower of London. A heavy police guard surrounded him on the rubbernecking visit to

Dixon Man Beaten, Two 'Pals' Fined

OREGON—(Special)—Two Dixon men were fined in justice court here Monday afternoon after arrest by Sheriff James White on charges of assaulting and beating a third Dixon resident.

Donald Robertson, 20, and Kenneth Giese, 22, were assessed a $25 fine and $11 costs each on charges brought by Kenneth Folkers.

Folkers, who had a black eye and facial cuts, accused Robertson and Giese of ambushing him late Sunday night as he left the Pines roller rink west of here.

Folkers said the two men knocked him down and that one kicked him in the face. He also declared Giese had held him while Robertson slugged him.

An argument between the trio had started earlier Sunday night while the three were in the skating rink, according to testimony. It also was asserted that ill feelings had existed between them from previous encounters.

Cousins Heirs

OREGON—Seven cousins were listed as heirs Monday when the estate of Leroy Myers, Grand De-tour, who died March 10 in Dixon, was admitted to probate in county court.

The estate was valued at $5,000 personal property and $12,000 real estate. There was no will.

Listed heirs: Ira Leggett, Dixon; Bertha Leggett and Bessie Coy, Arroyo, and others in Iowa and Montana.

Troops Two Miles Away Unscathed

Explosion One of Smallest in Chain Of Atom Bomb Tests

By BILL BECKER.
ATOM BOMB SITE, Nev., (AP)—Day came in with an atomic rumble today for 1,000 troops and hundreds of other observers on Yucca Flat—the soldiers and some newsmen closer than any human has been since Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Two combat battalion teams and 20 reporters only two miles from the 300-foot tower where the blast flared at 7:20 a.m. (CST) came through unscathed.

The low, fiery blast sucked dust from the desert floor into a whirling, purplish fireball, but little heat was felt by observers on News Nob, seven miles away.

Shock Sharp The shock of the blast was sharp and bounced over the mountains ringing the test site to crack down as far away as Pasadena, Calif., Cedar City, Utah, and points in between, it was announced here.

In Las Vegas, nearest sizeable city to the site, 75 miles away, it flared a brilliant white, over nearly half the horizon, then turned yellow before finally fading away into pink. Only a few residents reported feeling the sound wave.

The test was designed primarily to gauge how houses and cars would come through a real blast. The Federal Civil Defense Administration built two two-story homes on the proving ground and scattered nearly 70 cars among the Joshua trees.

House Smashed The closer of the two civil defense houses being tested was believed to be smashed, but a light appeared to be burning in the vicinity of the more distant house, 7,500 feet from the tower. The two $20,000, two-story homes were erected to help architects design houses with maximum protection.

After the first flash, the characteristic white cottony cloud formed quickly. As it rose to perhaps 13,000 feet, an ice cap appeared atop the big ball. The peculiar detonation set up a drumlike cacophony that ricocheted around the vast perimeter of the test ground. Within 19 minutes, wind swept the cloud southward, with its dirty gray high-lighted by the first early rose gleams of the rising sun.

By that time the top was reported at 40,000 feet.

At first, the low purplish burst sucked up dust and dirt from the desert floor into an angry, brown

Crop Support Prices Listed

Lee County PMA Gives Resume Of Principal Supports in State

AMBOY—Farmers, business and consumers are vitally concerned about the farm commodities for which price supports are established and the level at which they are supported. A resume of principal price supports applicable to Illinois was given today by the Lee County PMA committee.

A recent announcement by Secretary Benson set the national corn support rate for the 1953 crop at a minimum of $1.58 per bushel—2 cents below 1952 crop. This is based on 90 per cent of a recent parity figure and the rate may go higher if parity next fall increases. This action is in line with legislation of the last congress which provided for a 90 per cent support on corn, wheat and other basic crops through 1954.

(Parity is the price needed for a product to buy the same goods today that it would buy about 40 years ago.)

The support program for corn will be carried out through loan and purchase agreements.

A number of support rates were established last fall. These include the rate for the 1953 wheat crop at a minimum of $2.21 per bushel, or up 1 cent from 1952 crop, and the rate for soybeans at $2.56 per bushel, the same as the 1952 crop.

Other announced supports for 1953 crops cover oats at 80 cents per bushel and 2 cents above last year; rye at $1.43; and barley at $1.24.

Just recently Secretary Benson, using discretionary authority, established the support for dairy products at 90 per cent of parity

Yields Boosted By Cheap Soil Treatments

URBANA—How to produce 100-bushel corn yields with a system of soil treatment costing $6 a year has been demonstrated on dark soils at 12 University of Illinois experiment fields, for the period 1948-52.

According to L. B. Miller, Illinois College of Agriculture agronomist, this was accomplished by using adequate limestone, plus phosphate and potash if needed, to produce generous legume growth and by using the legumes as manure and crop residues for soil improvement.

The five-year average corn yield on the 12 fields was 57 bushels on check plots that did not get this soil treatment. The average was 111 bushels on the fields receiving the soil treatments adapted to the system of farming and soil type.

Montana is said to have coal reserves of about 222 billion tons.

for the year beginning April 1, 1953. In so doing he stated:

"A primary reason for continuing maximum support allowed by law was the assurance from dairy advisors that the industry would immediately start work on programs to reduce to a minimum governmental support purchases."

Price supports for hay and pasture seed are on a permissive basis and will not be continued for 1953.

It should be clearly understood that all of the above rates are on a national basis. County rates will be established at a later date.

These supports are announced as early as possible so that farmers may know what they can count on before they make final planting plans.

FOOD SOURCE

More food in the future must come from better use of land now being farmed, says a University of Illinois farm economist.

KENT PIG NUGGETS WILL CUT YOUR FEED COSTS!

As a successful farmer and feeder, you know the real cost of feed depends on more than price alone. For example, fast gains cost less than slow gains—early gains cost less than gains in the fattening stage—and "poor doing" pigs boost feed costs sky high. Real costs are not based on the price you pay for feed, but on the results you get from feeding it. "Results" is where Kent Pig Nuggets leads all other pig starters by a country mile! Kent Pig Nuggets is especially made to put fast, low-cost pounds on young pigs. These gains continue even after you stop feeding Pig Nuggets (usually at 8 to 10 weeks). Cutting feed costs in the growing and fattening stages is only one of the ways you profit. Runty pigs quickly become thrifty pigs. High levels of all necessary vitamins and antibiotics keep every pig husky and healthy. And Pig Nuggets is a complete, balanced ration, ready to feed, no time-consuming mixing. Depend on the pioneer and leader in pig starters—Kent Pig Nuggets—to cut your hog feed costs this year.

Here is proof!

... from Keota, Iowa
S. R. Bell and Son report only 1 runt out of 800 hogs... 230 pound hogs on the market in 5 1/2 months. Best hogs they ever raised and the cheapest gains. Pig Nuggets? Yes, sir!

... from Lenox, Illinois
Charles Truckenmiller reports, "My baby pigs grow faster on Kent Pig Nuggets. They weigh close to 50 pounds at 56 days. What's more, the runts catch up fast on Pig Nuggets."

Here is an actual photo of highly palatable Kent Pig Nuggets, also available in pellet form. We guarantee your young pigs will like Pig Nuggets and start eating them early or your money will be refunded.

CORN-GROWING to Become a Sports Event?

A contest, open to all local farmers, is announced today by Ernest Rhodes, Dixon, Rt. 1; C. H. Stuff, Dixon, Rt. 3, and Clayton Rhodes Feed Service, local seed dealers, to find out just how many bushels of corn can be raised on an acre of farm land.

The contest is sponsored in an endeavor to get the average farmer to step up his production of corn as a means of increasing his cash income, or adding to his feed supply, without increasing his investment by purchasing more land and machinery.

The method suggested to raise more corn per acre is a soil nutrient conservation plan that has been tested for several years. It has been proven that practically any farmer can increase his production from the present average of around 50 to 70 bushels to 100 or more bushels per acre by the proper use of commercial fertilizers and an increase in the plant population per acre. Cases of from 150 to 165 bushels per acre have been reported.

The contest sponsored by the Pride Hybrid Company is divided into three sections, with the same prizes for each, so that farmers located in northern areas, where the corn season is short, do not have to directly compete with those in southern localities where the conditions are more favorable. A first prize of $500.00 in cash, and a large number of other prizes are offered for each sectional contest.

Richard Metcalf, president of the Pride Hybrid Company of Glen Haven, Wisconsin, expressed to us the hope that this contest will be the means of enlisting more farmers in the needed program of soil conservation and soil revitalization by showing them how practical and profitable it can be. "Something must be done," he says, "to impress upon all farmers that the time has passed when they can 'let George do it,' and actually do something on their own farm." Pride is well known around here, and we are looking forward to some new records this fall.

Good Breeding Brings Increase

URBANA — Good breeding in a dairy herd is a big factor in whether or a dairyman works for his cows or the cows work for him.

C. S. Rhode, extension dairyman in the Illinois College of Agriculture, offers this example of what a good breeding program helped one dairy herd improvement association member in Illinois do in 8 years.

When Ed Ogren in Kane county first started breeding his cows and heifers to bulls in the Northern Illinois Breeding Co-op in 1943 the average production of his herd was 9,105 pounds of milk and 330 pounds of butterfat.

In 1951 Ogren's 22-cow herd averaged 12,178 pounds of milk and 459 pounds of fat. This increase in production, due largely to better inheritance, had a value of nearly $3,000 for the year.

Swine Herds Hit By Leptospirosis

URBANA — Leptospirosis, which has caused trouble in the nation's cattle for several years, may be one of the causes of unexplained abortion outbreaks in brucellosis-free swine herds.

Recent tests incriminate leptospirosis in an outbreak of abortions in an Illinois swine herd. Blood tests show that the herd is free from brucellosis, one of the most common causes of breeding failures in swine.

A relatively new disease to the Midwest, leptospirosis has been reported in cattle in at least 24 states, in hogs in a few states and in sheep in Illinois. The disease may also strike humans.

News of the Rock River Grange

By BOB TOURILLONT

Jack Keegan, local scoutmaster, and Ronnie Otten, Aaron Johnson, Jim Carlson, Denny Kline and Bob Swin, local Scouts, were present at a recent meeting of the Rock River Grange to show slides and tell of their experiences on their trip through Mexico and Guatemala.

About 70 patrons and friends were present to enjoy the stories about the various places they had been and view some of the souvenirs the boys had brought home.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dieterle, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Stahl and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kunde. The next meeting will be March 25.

Local patrons have their choice of two granges they can attend tonight to celebrate St. Patrick's day. The Palmyra Grange is sponsoring a dance at their hall west of Dixon and the Melody Busters of the Rock River Grange will be playing at the Legion hall in Chadwick, where the Black Oak Grange is sponsoring a "birthday supper" and dance.

Other dances to be held in the near future will be March 26, at the Odd Fellows hall, Sterling, where the Woodlawn Grange is sponsoring a dance especially for the benefit of the teenagers, and March 28, when Milledgeville will hold their regular dance. The Melody Busters will furnish the music at both of these affairs.

National Grange Lecturer Edward F. Holter has laid down a three-fold program, in cooperation with state lecturers, as a broad base for well-planned and effective subordinate and Pomona Grange programs during 1953.

Holter, who has termed the subordinate grange "the springboard of rural progress," is urging that all local lecturers plan their entire 1953 program now, that they use at least 85 per cent of the grange members on programs during the coming year and that at least four programs be devoted to the cause of farm and home safety.

Report Shows Cost of Switch To Grade A Milk

If you are interested in how much it costs a dairy farmer to switch over to grade A milk production, here's a report from Capper's Farmer on 1,990 Iowa farmers who recently made the change.

The average cost in changing operations to meet grade A standards was figured at $1,000. The study

Local Keglers Place High in Farm Tourney

AMBOY — Participating in the 1953 Illinois Farm Sports Festival bowling tournaments were a total of 14 Lee county bowlers.

At a district tournament in Rockford recently, five entries were made from bowlers who participated in the county competition.

Teams and bowlers are as follows: Open class women's team, Jan. Torman, Dorothy Urish, Frieda Shaddick, Irma Kranz, and Dorothy Hopkins, all of Pawpaw; open class mixed doubles, Kathryn Greenfield and George Morris, both of Dixon.

Open class men's team, Harold Peach, Harmon, Art Schoeneman, Ashton; Walter Gehrt, Dixon; Ed Bollman, Dixon, and Lawrence Steinhagen, Dixon; open class women's singles, Mrs. William Florschuetz, Sublette; and open class men's singles, Lewis Shaddick, Pawpaw.

Those who qualified for state competition were the open class women's team with 2131; the open class women's singles with 422, and the open class mixed doubles with 917.

All bowlers who qualified took part in state competition on March 7 at the "Bowl" in Springfield. Mrs. William Florschuetz topped the Lee county group with a statewide third place rating with a score of 468.

The mixed doubles team with Mrs. Greenfield and George Morris ranged in eighth place in a field of twelve.

The open class women's team also topped eighth place with their score of 2084.

CAUSES OF FEVER

Most undulant fever in humans comes from direct contact with brucellosis-infected animals or from drinking unpasteurized milk from infected cows.

On The Rural Scene

With JIM SOMERS
Lee County Farm Adviser

So far as crops and forage response is concerned it makes little, if any, difference which type of commercial nitrogen you use.

E. H. Tyner, Illinois College of Agriculture agronomist, explains that experiments with different commonly used forms of nitrogen show about equal results when equal amounts of actual nitrogen are applied.

There are differences, however, in the time when some of these fertilizers can be applied for best results.

Tests Completed On Several Cows Of Amboy Farmer

Several registered Holstein-Friesian cows in the herd of Alfred E. Meyer, Aljoan farm, Amboy, have completed official production tests under Herd Improvement registry rules.

Testing was supervised by University of Illinois, in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Brattleboro, Vt.

Highest producer among these was Aljoan Roderic Sue, with 454.1 pounds of butterfat and 13,988 pounds of milk, produced on two milkings daily in 296 days at the age of 3 years, 6 months. Her record averages approximately 22 quarts of milk daily for the period covered by her test.

Another high producer was Coles Cascade Pieterje Maid, with 454.1 pounds of butterfat and 13,284 pounds of milk, produced on two milkings daily in 312 days at the age of 12 years, 8 months. Her record averages approximately 20 quarts of milk daily for the period covered by her test.

LOST POWER

In many instances, birds which once possessed wings lost the power of flight because it was no longer necessary in their struggle for existence. The penguin is an example.

In general, ammonium sulfate, urea, calcium cyanamid and hydrous ammonia can be applied when soils are cool—about 50-55 degrees F.—with no danger of leaching losses. These are the types of nitrogen to plow under in late fall or very early spring.

Ammonium nitrate, or any other nitrogen fertilizer where most of the nitrogen is carried in the form of a nitrate, should not be plowed under or disked in for corn until the period of maximum leaching is past, or after mid-April in Illinois.

Nitrate-carrying commercial nitrogen can be applied, however, on wheat or grass meadows when early spring growth starts. It can also be applied early for oats.

Tyner advises buying nitrogen fertilizers on the basis of (1) price per pound of nitrogen, (2) the type of nitrogen carrier that can be handled best with the equipment available for distributing it and (3) time of application.

On the question of liquid versus solid fertilizers, Tyner points out that the liquid forms, except for anhydrous ammonia, are simply solid fertilizers in solution. Their value as fertilizer is the same as that of solids, and in each case the value is determined by the amount of plant food they supply.

If liquid fertilizers have any advantage, it would have to be in the cost or in handling advantages, such as transportation, storage or application.

On March 3 the State Department of Conservation reported that nursery stocks of red, scotch and white pine seedlings were sold out. About 20,000 white pine transplants were still available, and 1,900,000 jack pine seedlings were still available.

Others available were small numbers of pitch pine, red cedar, shortleaf pine and Virginia pine.

Dr. Tyner, whom I quoted above, is tentatively scheduled for a meeting here on March 30. Watch your papers for details.

Farm Buying Power Stable

By H. L. SIMERL
Farm Economic Expert
URBANA—Farmers' income so far this year—January and February—is as large as it was in the corresponding months a year ago. This information comes from the bureau of agricultural economics of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The figures are reported in the regular publication on "The Farm Income Situation" released late in February. Here is what the report says:

Farmers received about 2.7 billion dollars from marketings in January, 12 per cent less than in December but practically the same as in January, 1952. Prices averaged only 1 per cent below December, but marketings were down seasonally. Compared with January a year ago, lower average prices were about offset by a larger volume of sales.

Total cash receipts from farm marketings in February are tentatively estimated at 2 billion dollars, 24 per cent below January and about the same as in February, 1952. The decline from January are of a seasonal nature, partly because of fewer marketing days in February.

Study of the report indicates that increased receipts from crops have about offset decline in receipts from livestock. This, of course, does not balance the books for many farmers who have lost money on the traditionally speculative business of feeding beef cattle.

While on the subject of farm income, let us look at it from another angle. The official report previously mentioned shows that farmers received about 4.7 billion dollars for the two months. What about the buying power of this money?

For the answer to this question we turn to another official publication, "Agricultural Prices," released February 27. This report shows that prices of things farmers buy averaged about 2 per cent lower during January and February than they did in the like months a year ago.

In other words, the buying power of the farmers' dollar has been 2 per cent greater so far this year than it was in 1952.

Therefore, with farmers receiving about as much cash during the past two months as they did during the same period last year and with prices of things farmers buy down about 2 per cent, farm buying power so far this year has been about as large as it was a year before.

This is not a forecast for the remainder of the year. However, we may note that a daily index of prices of basic commodities has trended upward since mid-February.

CHICAGO — (U) — Rodney Dee Brodie was 18 months old Monday and received a record player and some western records in honor of the occasion.

He clapped his hands in tune with the music when it was played. The record player and the records were a gift of the occupational therapy staff of the University of Illinois Neuropsychiatric Institute where he has undergone 18 operations since separation from his siamese twin brother, Roger Lee, Dec. 17. They were born joined at the tops of their heads. Roger Lee died Jan. 20.

Sugared Pig Pellets...

PIGS PREFER SUGAR COATED
Pigs ate 1 1/2 times as many sugar coated pellets as pellets in which the sugar was mixed inside.

FEED ALL THEY WANT
Don't be stingy with pig starter! Early gains are the cheapest, only 1 1/2 to 2 pounds of starter is needed per pound of gain on young pigs.

A GOOD START IS HALF THE BATTLE
Pig starters should be highly fortified with vitamins, antibiotics and trace minerals. Pigs eat so little that each nibble or bite should be packed with nutrients to promote fast growth and prevent disease.

A baby pig has a small stomach and an intestinal tract with limited capacity. So use only high-energy, low fibre ingredients.

WEAN HEAVY PIGS SOONER

You can wean pigs earlier if they get a good starter than if they eat only their mother's feed. Large litters aren't handicapped so much by a milk shortage when a palatable starter is fed.

USE A FEED THAT TASTES GOOD
Sugar is one of the most palatable ingredients that can be used in pig starters. Pigs, like people, seem to have a sweet tooth—only pigs don't have a "figure-to-watch" problem.

THE BEST IS BEST FOR YOUR PIGS
You can't afford to "cheat" pigs during their critical first 3 weeks. Demand the best pig starter that manufacturers can build. Ask first about performance, then price!

U. S. Psychological Warfare Is Robbed of Surprise Element

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are putting great stress these days on the matter of psychological warfare. Certainly it will be all to the good if we can capture the psychological initiative from the Soviet Union.

But it needs to be realized that these techniques have certain sharp limits for us which do not similarly bind the Russians.

When we are pursuing tactics which are essentially secret maneuvers, our psychological experts can operate with a fairly free hand. Elaborate explanations may be avoided.

Yet when the strategy calls for overt moves that must be publicly announced or disclosed, it is a different story. The aim may be to start something that will simply keep the enemy guessing. Still we may find such a course impractical.

The trouble is that congress, the American people, and our allies as well, do not want to be kept guessing. They want every disclosed move spelled out in detail, every wisp of the fog of mystery dispelled.

This is inherent in the nature of democracy. We want explanations for everything and feel we are entitled to them.

The case of freeing Chiang Kai-shek for operations against the Chinese Red mainland is a good example.

We hoped in that instance to worry the enemy as to what might follow. The more speculation that came after that move, the better it suited our purpose to trouble the Communists.

But immediately our own lawmakers and many of our curious friends abroad demanded to know what we planned in Asia down to the last comma. In the course of reassuring them, we eliminated all possible surprise for our enemy.

There would seem to be no escape from this pattern. So long as our psychological warfare embraces overt steps, we cannot to that extent count upon the weapon of surprise. For this element is incompatible with our ingrained habit—the mark of our freedom—of discussing everything right into the ground.

Tough Nut to Crack

Months ago sober warnings were issued that the victorious Republicans would get a shock the day they took over the government and saw how few jobs they could count on as spoils.

The GOP leaders understand now. So far their efforts to install deserving party members in the great federal bureaucracy have been about as effective as chipping away at a glacier with an ice pick.

Much of the federal personnel list is properly under civil service safeguards. President Eisenhower would seem wholly within the bounds of reason and fairness, however, with his plan to strip civil service status off policy-making jobs which were blanketed into the service to keep Democrats at work.

Operation Turnover, if it may be so labeled, is proving just about as difficult for the Eisenhower team to crack as is figuring out how to break the Korean stalemate.

Sea shells found far inland or even high in the mountains often tell of life in the little known seas hundreds of millions of years ago. History of America's remote past is written in the sedimentary rocks of the country.

Rising 440 feet above the riverbed, the Pine Flat dam across California's Kings river, will be the eighth highest concrete dam in the world. It is planned chiefly for flood control, but also will be used for irrigation and as a source of hydroelectric power.

A bullet-proof, self-sealing gasoline tank made of silk, wool, or other cloth, has been invented. Great advantage of the cloth is that, unlike aluminum or other metals, a bullet will not leave jagged holes, nor will the pressure created inside the tank by passage of the bullet cause strain on joints or rivets.

Walks 10 Miles To Meet Income Tax Deadline

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — A lone clerk in the local office of the bureau of internal revenue looked wearily at the bedraggled figure who strode into the office at five minutes to midnight.

"Brother," the man said pleadingly, "I walked 10 miles, don't be sore at me."

Joseph Patchen of Moscow, about 10 miles from here, told the clerk he had heard a news commentator warn that midnight was the deadline for filing income tax returns.

Patchen said he put his check-book in his pocket and started walking. He hoped for a lift, but none materialized.

With the help of the clerk, it took Patchen just five minutes to get straightened out with Uncle Sam. He wrote a check and walked out of the office at the stroke of midnight.

The Doctor Says:

Thymus Condition Usually Is Not Treated; Function of Chest Gland Is Still a Mystery

Written for NEA Service
By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

I often wish readers did not ask such difficult questions as today's first, but they do!

Q—What is the cause and cure of a thymus condition? I am anxious about my child. —Mrs. R. H.

A—The thymus is a ductless gland lying in the back of the chest. What function or functions it serves is still largely shrouded in mystery, and its relations, if any, to clinical diseases, is uncertain. It was formerly thought that enlargement of the thymus was sometimes responsible for sudden death in children, and X-ray treatments were formerly given to shrink the gland and thus to try and avoid this situation. This procedure has now been largely abandoned and usually nothing is done to be done. The writer of the letter should relax and not worry about her child.

Q—Can arthritis be inherited? Both my husband and I are suffering from it and wonder what chance our child has. —Mrs. H. S.

A—There is little or no reason to believe that arthritis is inherited and a child of parents who have arthritis has as good a chance of escaping difficulty as any other child.

Q—I have been told by my doctor that I have thrush. My husband also has this. What causes it? —Mrs. L. E. W.

A—Thrush is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the mouth caused by a yeast-like fungus. It occurs particularly in people who are weakened by some chronic disease or by operation and in undernourished children. In addition to trying to get the victim of thrush into the best possible condition, there are local treatments which are generally highly effective.

Q—What is your opinion of young parents who hold their youngsters, ranging from the age of one year to two years old, by the feet and swinging them pendulum-wise head down, also round and round, in other words, clockwise, head down? —F. R.

A—I think such parents are unnecessarily rough and thoughtless. If they swung their children counter-clockwise, it would be just as bad.

Q—I read that "a cancer is a tumor beginning with and consisting of epithelial cells. If that is the case would epithelial cells in the urine be an indication of cancer?" —Mrs. C. E.

A—Cancer cells are by no means always of epithelial origin, and if they are they will have characteristics which set them apart from normal epithelial cells. Epithelial cells are commonly found in the urine and are rarely an indication of cancer.

Opening Bid Not Proper 'Book' Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY

In today's hand South's opening bid of two no-trump is not quite a "book" bid. South has only 21 points in high cards, and the opening bid of two no-trump usually shows 22 to 24 points. The strong five-card suit is easily worth the missing point, however, and the opening bid can therefore not be criticized.

North has an obvious raise to game. With 6 points in high cards, North expects that the combined holding is roughly 28 to 30 points, which ought to be ample for game but not nearly enough for slam.

When West opens the jack of spades, South must win the trick at once instead of holding up. South can then go right after the clubs, by laying down the ace and then continuing with a low club, without fearing the spade suit.

South reasons that if the spades are 5-2, and if East has the king of clubs, East will be able to lead only one spade through South. This will not be sufficient to let West run the suit.

There is never anything to fear, of course, if the spades are 4-3. At worst, South can lose only three spades and one club trick.

As the cards lie, South easily makes his game with four clubs, two hearts, two diamonds, and at least one spade.

There may be a different story to tell if South makes the mistake of refusing the first spade trick. West can then defeat the contract by switching to hearts.

South can win in his own hand and go after the clubs, but West will lead another heart upon taking his king of clubs. South now can run only eight tricks, and when he tries to set up his ninth trick the opponents can take two heart tricks. They will thus defeat the game with a spade, a club, two hearts, and either a second spade or a diamond.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass 3 Hearts Pass ? You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-7-5-3, Hearts Q-J-4, Diamonds 7-5-3, Clubs K-Q-4. What do you do?

A—Bid five hearts. Your partner's rebid shows 17 to 19 points with a strong heart suit, and you have a count of 13 points in high cards, together with 1 point extra for the queen of North's bid suit and 1 point for the doubleton.

The total is probably enough for a slam, but you cannot show an ace and shouldn't bid a Blackwood four no-trump. Your best course is to extend the general slam invitation of five hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass 3 Spades Pass ? You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-7-5-3,

Says Get-Tough Policy Would Hurt Peace Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Cooper of Kentucky said today the sort of get-tough policy toward Russia urged by two of his fellow Republicans would sound the "death knell" to any hopes of peaceful settlement.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) told the senate Monday the United States should immediately seek to persuade the United Nations to brand Russia as an aggressor in Korea.

Knowland advocated the action as part of a program to bring an immediate cold war showdown with the Communists. A second point would be a request from this country that all U.N. members withdraw recognition of Red China. A third was a complete blockade of Red China.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), appearing on an MBS radio interview Monday night, said the U.N. should take a firm stand toward what he termed "treason by Russia to the United Nations."

Ferguson said he disagreed with Cooper's contention that a get-tough policy might touch off a new world war, and he added: "I can't see that we can cause Russia to take any step she doesn't want to take when she wants to take it."

Knowland is chairman of the Republican policy committee, but he emphasized Monday he was voicing only his own convictions.

He took the floor the day after Georgi Malenkov, the new Soviet premier, had said peaceful settlement of the issues between this country and Russia was possible. Knowland's comment: "Deeds rather than words would be more impressive."

Ferguson declared: "Communism is really a religion of promises. I think we are generally agreed in this country that you can't believe gangsters who are in a conspiracy."

Knowland's thesis was promptly challenged on the senate floor by Cooper, who has served as a U.S. delegate to U.N. general assemblies.

Disputes Over Farms Heard In Ogle Court

OREGON (Special)—Justice court action here Monday included awarding of possession of an Ogle county farm to the plaintiff in a jury trial suit and dismissal of charges of trespassing in a case involving another farm in the county.

In the latter case, James Yenerich, Pawpaw, had charged Garrett Kreger, Dixon area farmer, with trespassing under the criminal act. Kreger last week moved to a farm in Pine Creek township which the plaintiff asserted still was rented to him (Yenerich).

In the jury trial case, Frank C. Macklin was awarded possession of a farm south of Washington Grove church, near Ashton, in his suit against Lester Lewis, who has been living on the farm.

May Appeal

Macklin, who owns the 190-acre farm, sought possession of the property to turn it over to Mr. and Mrs. Julian J. Breunig, Oak Park. Macklin said he had sold the farm to the Breunigs last October.

Lewis, through his attorney, asserted that he had a verbal agreement with Macklin to occupy the farm for three years beginning March 1.

Macklin denied making the alleged agreement.

Dismisses Complaint

In dismissing the complaint of trespassing in the Yenerich-Kreger case, Justice Chester Landers said the case should be heard under civil proceeding instead of criminal proceedings.

Testimony by Yenerich revealed that he had moved from the Pine Creek farm last December to property owned by his brother near Pawpaw. Yenerich took most of his farm equipment with him, but left some household items in Pine Creek farm house.

The plaintiff declared he still held a lease on the Pine Creek farm although he was not living there.

He charged Kreger with trespassing for moving to the farm last week.

The farm is owned by William Netzt, who said he had rented it to Kreger. Yenerich disputed Netzt's right to rent the property to Kreger, contending that Netzt was obligated to serve a six-month notice to him if their contract was to be ended.

Yenerich had also sought arrest of about 15 persons, most of whom were neighbors of Kreger, on charges of trespassing on the farm while helping Kreger move there.

Printer Gets Life for Murder During Robbery

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—An unemployed printer who led a double life of Sunday school teacher and sneak thief today began a double life sentence for the murder of a wealthy couple during a house-break last November.

Murdoch MacDonald, 26, pleaded guilty Monday to two counts of murder in the second degree in the shooting of Mr. and Mrs. O. Stanley Porter.

Superior Court Judge Francis G. Good ordered MacDonald to serve the two life sentences consecutively, thus forestalling any chance of parole.

MacDonald said he took to house-breaking, after he lost his job, to support his wife and newborn daughter, now five months old.

mushroom. Dust swept eastward along the desert floor finally obscured both test houses. The tower from which the device was set off was believed vaporized.

One of Smallest

Of the dozen atomic explosions viewed by this observer, this was one of the smallest. The fireball's brilliance was less and it appeared smaller than most. The AEC announced beforehand that it would have an energy output equal to 15,000 tons of TNT.

As the dust on the ground cleared, trucks carrying the troops from their forward positions could be seen moving slowly towards their maneuver objective many minutes after the blast.

George B. Owen, of Phoenix, Arizona's civil defense director, said that in his opinion today's blast "proves that wind currents would have a definite effect on rescue problems."

He said the cloud did not lift sufficiently for rescue work to be done immediately and was too widespread for effective work in case of atomic disaster. Owen was present at last year's drop from a plane, detonated at 3,500 feet.

Lighted By Sun

A half-hour after the blast, the atomic cloud began to mingle with nature's clouds, all lighted by the early morning sun. With its gray tail, the cloud stretched half the length of the 16-mile long flat.

While the burst did little to warm the spectators on News Nob, including civil defense leaders from various parts of the country, it certainly thrilled the vast majority. "Awesome," "fascinating and intriguing" and "a challenge for all humanity" were some of the reactions.

Stevenson Witnesses War Action

SEOUL (AP)—Adlai Stevenson toured Korea's western front today and Chinese Communist gunners fired two shells into a hill from which he was observing enemy lines.

The 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, clad in an armored vest and helmet, got a closeup of the fighting from bunkers and deep communications trenches in the U.S. Second division sector.

The shells landed harmlessly some 350 yards from Stevenson and his party while they were on one end of a hill mass known as The Hook.

Stevenson said, "We were at a forward observation post on the front lines. I didn't see any Chinese. However, I did see an air strike and some artillery. A couple of mortar shells detonated in our company area."

He quickly added, with a laugh: "But we had no casualties."

Other members of the party included Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. 8th Army commander and Maj. Gen. James C. Fry, 2nd division commander.

The shelling took place adjacent to the Little Gibraltar hill sector, where American troops this morning smashed a Chinese attack in trench fighting.

House Reverses Committee Stand on Bill

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois House today overrode its Liquor Regulation Committee on the issue whether taverns should be allowed to continue whisky sales to girls in the 18 to 20 age bracket.

The Liquor Regulation Committee last week hung a "do not pass" label on a bill to prohibit such sales, voting 10 to 4 to kill it.

By an 84 to 10 vote, the House reversed the committee and placed the bill on its calendar for future consideration.

It acted at the request of Rep. G. William Horsley (R-Springfield), one of six lawmakers sponsoring the proposed change.

"There is a growing tendency in Illinois for 18-year old girls to go into taverns and take boys the same age with them," Horsley declared. "He can't buy a drink but she can."

"The problem is growing worse every day—that is, young people in taverns."

"I don't believe girls should drink until they're 21 any more than boys do," Horsley said.

As now worded, the law denies eligibility to buy liquor, to minors—persons under 18 in the case of girls and under 21 in the case of boys. The pending bill would put young persons on an equal footing, regardless of sex.

CORRECTION: We got our weeks mixed up yesterday in reporting that Jesse Owens would be at the Polo sports banquet tonight. If he is, he will be all alone since the banquet will be held next Tuesday, March 24 at which time Jesse Owens will be the guest speaker. Letters will not be awarded to the Polo high school athletes at this time, but the members of the basketball and football teams will be introduced along with their coaches.

Dr. J. C. Vezina, presently of Mapleton, Minn., but formerly basketball coach at Dixon high school from 1919 to 1921, is in town for several days and hopes to be able to visit many of his old students.

IT OPENS TOMORROW NIGHT—The Illinois state basketball tournament with two games on the docket. Thursday, beginning at 10 a. m. the first round will continue with two tilts in the morning, two in the afternoon and two in the evening, which will wind up the first round of play.

Dixon interest seems to be high with the general prediction on the ultimate winner being split pretty much between LaGrange and Pinckneyville. Most observers we have contacted favor Ottawa to roll through the lower bracket and meet either the Lions or Panthers in the finals.

AS FOR MY OWN VALUELESS OPINION, I lean toward Pinckneyville with Peoria Central as the most likely finalist from the lower bracket.

While not casting any reflections upon the state office for the way the pairings have fallen throughout the tournaments, it does seem a shame that in all probability the finals will not contain the two best teams in the state.

FOR INSTANCE, while not contending that Kankakee would have made the finals, it hardly seems right that the Kays and LaGrange should have both been sent to the same sectional thus making room for only one to go to Champaign.

Secondly, having eliminated Kankakee from the picture, the general impression is that LaGrange and Pinckneyville are the two top entries, yet they will meet in the semi-finals if both survive.

TOMORROW NIGHT, LaGrange should have little trouble in hurdling DuSable of Chicago in the opening game and St. Teresa of Decatur should get past Canton.

Thursday morning, I go along with Pinckneyville over DeKalb and Jacksonville over Hillsboro. In the afternoon it looks like Elgin easily over West Frankfort and Peoria Central chopping down Highland.

IN THE FIRST ROUND WIND-UP, Ottawa is a slim favorite here over Rock Island and Schlarman of Danville is a heavy choice to eliminate Lawrenceville.

Thanks to the generosity of the Shaw Publishing company, I will be at Champaign to make my selections from the quarter-finals right to the bitter end.

Stopping Browns' Move Reduces Braves' Hopes

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—One of the surest things in baseball boomeranged into one of the biggest surprises when Bill Veeck was refused permission to transfer the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore.

For almost a week, unofficial polls of the owners indicated that mere formalities were involved in the proposed switch. But when they met here Monday, they sent Veeck back to St. Louis for at least one more year by a 5-2 vote against the switch. Only the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox reportedly sided with Veeck.

As officials talked it over today, they were not so certain the Boston Braves would receive permission to transfer the National League franchise to Milwaukee. This move also had been thought to be all set except for the official voting in St. Petersburg Wednesday.

Frick Opposed—All the National League club owners must approve if the switch is to be made, and at least one—waller O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers—hinted he might not vote for the change.

Another thing that might influence the action of the National League moguls was the attitude of Commissioner Ford Frick. He obviously was pleased that the Browns will be forced to remain in St. Louis.

"I'm in favor of transferring the franchise, but not at this late time," he said, referring to the Browns. "It would have been nonsensical to make the move so close to the start of the season. We would have been up to our necks in lawsuits."

St. Louis Fans Jubilant at Refusal

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The jubilation which greeted news that the Browns will remain in St. Louis, at least for the 1953 season, was mixed with resentment against owner Bill Veeck for trying to transfer the club to Baltimore.

An attorney said three suits against Veeck and the Browns, filed in an effort to prevent transfer of the Browns, will be pressed despite the league's action.

Veeck, who said in Tampa, Fla., Monday that he planned to fly here today, will find upon his arrival a circuit court order directing him to appear Thursday to answer a suit in which seven minority stockholders are seeking to have a temporary receiver appointed for the club.

James Ford, a stock salesman, voiced the sentiments of many die-hard Browns fans:

"We took Veeck in as a friend. People sold him their stock because he promised to give St. Louis a good ball club and keep it here. "He forgot he had a moral responsibility to the people who gave up their stock. I believe the moral aspect had a lot to do with the way the American league club officials voted. "The least he can do now is to sell the club back to St. Louis interests."

The Globe-Democrat, in a dispatch from Tampa, reported Veeck was ready to sell the club, "lock, stock and barrel."

The newspaper quoted Veeck as saying he was "open to bids from St. Louisans."

State Tournament Sidelights:

LaGrange Coach Expects To End Season Undefeated

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Northern Illinois, back in the driver's seat after some lean little years, will produce its third straight state cage winner if favored LaGrange comes through.

The northern section had its first champion in 10 years when Freeport grabbed the prize in 1951, then followed up with Hebron last year.

Hungriest section now is the middle third of Illinois, which has to look back to Paris in 1947, for its last crown. Peoria Central, Jacksonville and Schlarman of Danville are rated the best bets from the central area this time.

Only five of the 16 schools in the finals are listed on the roster of former champions. They are Canton, Pinckneyville, Elgin, Peoria Central and Hillsboro. In St. Teresa, the city of Decatur has a chance for its fourth flag, the three others belonging to Decatur high.

Merrill "Duster" Thomas, who was at the helm when Pinckneyville won in 1948, is the sole coach in the finals with a previous state titlist.

In the weekly polls conducted by The Associated Press, LaGrange was No. 1 in the first ratings, then second behind Kankakee most of the season until the final weeks when Pinckneyville slipped into the runnerup spot.

The top ranking team among the 16 finalists has carried off honors four times and the No. 2 club four times since the poll started eight years ago. If this holds true again, it will be LaGrange or Pinckneyville.

Before the season opened, Coach Greg Sloan of LaGrange answered an AP questionnaire on the school's cage prospects with this comment: "We think we can go undefeated in 1952-53." The outlook is bright for his prediction to stand up.

With the new foul rules and generally high scoring exhibitions this season, some of the tourney scoring records may be in danger. The individual mark was set by Max Hooper of Mt. Vernon in 1950, with 104 points for four tournament games and 38 for a single contest.

Pinckneyville is riding the second longest winning streak in the tourney, trailing the 25 straight chalked up by LaGrange. The Pincks have captured their last 19 starts. Next in line is DeKalb with 13 in a row, followed by Schlarman and DuSable with 11 each.

During the regular season, Canton met four of the 15 other finalists and broke even. The Little Giants defeated Rock Island and Peoria Central but bowed to Jacksonville and Pinckneyville.

DeKalb won over Elgin and lost to Rock Island and Ottawa. Schlarman whipped St. Teresa, Jacksonville beat Hillsboro and LaGrange downed Elgin in some other meetings involving the "sweet 16" group.

LaGrange Has Strong Front Line

Each Team Lists At Least One Top Player to Boast

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—An impressive list of solo performers—marks men, rebounders and dribblers—will engage attention at the Illinois high school basketball playoffs.

Some crowd pleasers from the 1952 array of stellar players are back and a big batch of talented newcomers will be on hand for action starting Thursday night.

Two of the towering pivotmen are Ted Caiazza of LaGrange and Tony Davis of Danville Schlarman. Caiazza, a 238 pound, 6-8 junior, shines as a formidable scoring cog and rebounder in LaGrange's tall swift unit. Despite his bulk, he moves easily and satisfies Coach Greg Sloan's demands for speed in a press defense.

The McCrae boys, Joe, who is 6-4, and Leon, 6-1, give LaGrange one of the best forward lines among the finalists.

Like Caiazza, Davis is 6-8 and a big scoring threat. The Schlarman team, generally lacking height, counts on their lanky star for an average of 20 points. In a sectional tilt with Westville, he whipped in 48.

Pinckneyville's scoring punch, packed throughout the Perry county squad, explodes most often through a 6-3 junior forward, Ron Fursell, who played in the finals last year. He shows a 13 point average. Teammate Gene Place matches him in height and barely runs behind in scoring.

The sting in Peoria Central's attack comes chiefly from center Hiles Stout, in a front wall that scarps 6-4 and spreads 635 pounds among three men.

Despite his 225 pounds, Stout squeezes through jams under the basket for layups and is skillful with hook and jump shots. His average of better than 24 points was helped by one spree of 48 against Peoria Woodruff.

Just as tall but not as heavy is Highland's Burnell Weinheimer, classed as "terrific" on a hook shot by his coach, Ed Hilbert. Weinheimer works the double pivot with Russell Theims, 6-2 forward.

Guard Ike Wright spurts at the head of a Jacksonville attack. His dribbling dashes won him a post on the second all-tourney team last year. Ed Harrell, a dead-eyed teammate, put in 98 of the Jacks' regional-sectional total tallies.

Offensive skill is spread through an Ottawa aggregation which bangs the backboards best through Pete Meckenstock, 6-3 forward, and Bob Dekreon, six foot guard. Meckenstock collected 506 points in 29 games.

Speedy Rock Island boasts a troublesome defensive barrier built on five seniors and counts most on Chuck Thomas, 5-11, and Bill Geisler, to thread the hoop. Most of the Rocks showed their wares well in last year's crown finals.

Sid Tucker, who has amassed over 1,000 points in the last three years and almost 550 of them this year, paces Decatur's St. Teresa combination. He's a 6-4 southpaw senior who built a 20-point average with effective feeding by clever Danny Collins, 5-10 guard.

Canton has two leading point-makers in 6-6 center Bill Knott and 5-11 Dolla McMullen.

Lawrenceville's run-and-shoot aggregation relies on Larry Breyfogle, 6-2½ junior, an expert at dumping the ball in from out in front.

Lanky Glen Lose, Elgin forward, puts his best foot forward in the clutch. He pitched four free throws that put trailing Elgin on top of New Trier in a sectional thriller. Lose averages 15 points.

Rebounding is the long suit of John Stankovich, West Frankfort's tall forward while 5-8 guards Chuck Sweetin and Larry Carpenter click on set shots.

Hillsboro leans on Wally Westbrook, a pile driving guard who excels in jump shooting, Larry Terneus and Cecil Hart.

Bob Swanum usually registers 20 tallies when DeKalb takes the floor. A 6-3 senior weighing 180, Swanum gets an able assist from guard Jack Voegler, normally good for 17 points.

Rate Hoosiers Seven Points Over LSU

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Fast-breaking Indiana rules a seven-point favorite over Louisiana State university and skyscraper Washington is a three-point choice over defending champion Kansas tonight in the semi-finals of the NCAA basketball tournament.

The Hoosiers, top-ranked nationally in The Associated Press poll, and LSU's Southeastern conference kings, No. 7, clash in the opening game at 7:45 p. m. (CST).

The tipoff in the second game will come two hours later. Washington is No. 2 in the ratings and Kansas is No. 5.

Await Vote Of 2 Schools On Bowl Pact

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten schools waited today on two members—Purdue and Northwestern—for key votes on whether the conference's Rose Bowl football appearances will continue after next New Year's game.

Faculties of three schools—Michigan State, Minnesota and Wisconsin—have turned down a proposal to renew the contract with the Pacific Coast conference after its Jan. 1, 1954 expiration.

Michigan State, currently on probation after a Big Ten investigation of its aid-to-athletes practices, cast the latest negative. The Spartan faculty voted 154 to 94 against the pact Monday.

Illinois is the only school so far to approve an extension. Its faculty did so conditionally. Michigan, Iowa, Ohio State and Indiana are expected to follow suit.

Northwestern and Purdue were in favor of the original five-year contract but opposed its current three-year extension. Northwestern and Purdue officials have given no indication that they now would approve a further extension.

A 5-5 tie vote would kill the proposal, since a majority vote is necessary. The vote of all the schools is expected to be announced officially at a meeting in May.

Carbondale Five Nips Seeded Club In AAU Contest

DENVER (AP)—The Santa Maria, Calif., Golden Dukes, one of eight seeded teams in the field of 37, were sidelined Monday by Carbondale, Ill., 69-67, in a first round upset in the National AAU basketball tournament.

The Carbondale team of former Southern Illinois university players shook loose from a 53-53 tie in the early minutes of the fourth period and fought off frantic rallies by the Dukes, who finished third in the AAU's topflight National Industrial basketball league.

Frank Valier and Jack Long of Carbondale bagged 17 points each in spilling the Californians.

Two second round games, among six contests scheduled today, will select two of the eight teams for Thursday's quarterfinal round. They match the defending champion Peoria, Ill., Diesel Cats against the Fort Sam Houston Rangers of San Antonio, Tex., and the Milwaukee Allen Bradley five against the Quantico, Va., Marines.

Army Rejects May's Plea For Dependency Discharge

By The Associated Press
It still was Pvt. Willie Mays today and that's not good news for the New York Giants.

The 21-year-old Negro outfielder had his application for discharge from the Army on dependency grounds turned down Monday.

Mays said he was the sole support of his mother, step-father, three brothers and six sisters.

The Giants had been hoping to have him back in time for the opening of the National League season next month.

A spokesman at the Second Army headquarters, Ft. Meade, Md., which reviewed Willie's case, said, "Dependency did not exist to a degree to warrant a discharge."

To add to the day's misfortunes, the Giants learned that Bobby Thomson would be sidelined for two weeks as a result of a blow he received on the right wrist Sunday when struck by one of Mike Garcia's pitches.

Also on the debit side, the Giants dropped a 4-3 exhibition decision to the Chicago White Sox at Los Angeles. A couple of errors gave the Sox three unearned runs in the fourth inning off southpaw Max Lanier.

Another injury cropped up as the Chicago Cubs defeated Los Angeles, 6-3, at Fullerton, Calif. Hank Sauer, the National League's most valuable player in 1952, jammed his right index finger while sliding back to first base. Trainer Al Scheuneman said, however, the injury is not serious.

Turpin vs. Cartier In London Tonight

LONDON (AP)—Randy Turpin, the guy the British think should be the world middleweight champion, tussles with New York's Walt Cartier over 10 rounds tonight.

British sports writers have pinned a "glass jaw" label on Cartier, who has been knocked out six times, and agree that Randy, one of the heaviest punchers for his weight, should be able to knock him out.

Trippi Signs

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Charlie Trippi, onetime Georgia football great, has agreed to play baseball with the Jacksonville Braves of the Class A South Atlantic League.

Previously he had accepted salary terms but balked at not getting part of his sale price from the Atlanta Crackers. Final terms were not announced.

CHICAGO—(AP)—The 26-year-old wife of a railroad employe told police early today she was raped by a teen-age youth who accosted her as she walked home from a movie and forced her into his car. # WE ARE PROUD and THANKFUL

Last Saturday evening our dreams came true as we held our grand opening of Dixon's new youth center. This was the climax of weeks of hard work by hundreds of students from Dixon High School. It required the untiring efforts of everyone in scrubbing, cleaning, repairing and painting.

We Are Grateful, Mrs. Roe

The entire project was under the personal direction of Mrs. Ben Roe. Without her keen interest and continued advice our new recreational center could not have become a reality. She gave unselfishly of her time, night after night. To you, Mrs. Roe, -- Our sincerest thanks.

Continuous Supervision

We have definite plans for continuous supervision whereby assignments will be made to various members and they will be held strictly responsible for the proper operation of the center. A copy of this assignment is shown below.

You have been assigned as Student Director of the Youth Center . . . from . . . to . . . You must first secure two adult sponsors for that time. It is your responsibility to see that the Youth Center is in order, to handle any discipline problems (refer these to adults), to keep a list of those students who violate any of the rules, to report breakage, damage, etc. to Mrs. Roe or Gretchen Van Scoy—and to cleanup the hall after the students leave. You will be in charge only once a year, so please do your best to do a good job the night you are in charge—and to leave the Youth Center in perfect order for the next night's activities. We have no janitor service, so it is up to each of us to do our part. You are required to tear off the below and turn it in to Gretchen two weeks before you are in charge. If for any reason you cannot take your turn, please notify Gretchen or Mrs. Roe a day ahead of your scheduled time. I accept full responsibility for the running of the Youth Center the . . . The adult sponsors will be . . .

Speed Saunders 146, Rob Cramer 146,

Russ Shuck 145. We rolled against

Bill Hopper last night and he demonstrated how to roll in the tenth frame

by striking out in each of his three games while we had a split and then three in our three finishes as a horrible example. Jim McMillon jumped his games 12 pins a set with 105, 167, 179

and 213. Three of our State Ho-pital legends had a 451. Russ Handy, Norm Thomas and John Hill coming in on the first shift, but for all the good

we did, we might as well been miles away from the bowling alley. Ed

Worley now has 101 teams signed up for the City Association team tournament, assuming him of another record entry.
